

The Old Oaken Bucket
Is Our Idea of a Good Value.
Of course, we can't compare to-day with the prices of yore.

Everything costs more than it used to but some things wear longer—so it's as broad as it is long.

High prices are all right if they are offset by an increased period of satisfaction and that's getting right down to what we wanted to say in the beginning.

If we sell you a suit it will deliver every drop of effort that you put behind the money you spend since you are going to pay a higher price—no matter where you go—why not make sure of getting the best value and come here without hesitation.

FUTURE AMERICANS CHEER NEW LAND

Ellis Island.—With the going back to peace-time organization, all immigrants wishing to make America their home, will be examined at the station. The new tests are likely to reduce the numbers admitted. Immigrants are being attracted to the United States by the sound conditions and the high salaries paid to the laboring class. Above picture shows some future Americans who are cheering, following the official word that allows them to enter this country.

LILLAS ADMITS TO ROBBERIES

MOBILE LOST MUCH LOOT, PART OF IT IDENTIFIED HERE—SILVERWARE FROM SULLIVAN HOME.

Benjamin Lillas has confessed to taking the silver and other ware, according to the police department, from the Martin Sullivan home, and which was recovered early yesterday morning. McCullough was detained by the police department and charged with accessory before and after the fact. The other two young men held by the police were released when the department had completed their investigation yesterday.

A wire from Mobile was received last night stating that one store in that city had been robbed of goods valued at about $2,000. Part of the goods recovered were identified as coming from that store. These articles were silk shirts, sold to people in this city. Recovery of other goods is expected today.

Word from New Orleans also identified a brooch set with pearls, which had been stolen from that city recently. Other articles stolen from New Orleans are expected to be found during the investigation today.

Other goods have been sold to parties in this city, according to the police department, and these are expected to be recovered, according to Special Officer Touart, who worked up the case with Lieutenant McClure and others of the department.

Lillas has not confessed to all the robbery, stated Officer Touart last night, but admits each one as new goods are found. He is being held in the station in solitary confinement and none but the officers working on the case are allowed to talk with him. The officers are looking for a complete confession of all robberies he has been connected with, at least in the surrounding states.

GOOD ROADS MEN DISCUSS PROGRAM

Members of the Escambia county good roads association met in the office of F. W. Marsh yesterday morning to discuss good roads projects, particularly the proposed meeting at Mobile, March 22. A tentative program has been mapped out. Capt. Christy of the naval station, has approved a request for seaplanes to transmit about six members of the association to the meeting at Mobile and has forwarded the request to Washington for approval.

Others who make the trip to Mobile will travel in a special car, leaving Pensacola Sunday night and returning arrive in Pensacola Tuesday morning. A resolution to officials of the Gulf Atlantic highway and to the Alabama state highway department was approved and ordered forwarded. This resolution asks that the section of road between Troy and Florida be constructed from the first funds available from Alabama's new bond issue. J. B. Perkins has been appointed organizer of a public safety campaign for April 1 to 14. The idea of the campaign is to teach motorists and pedestrians to be more careful on public highways.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.—Adv.

CHANGE SCHOOL HEATING PLANT HART URGES EARLY TRAINING

Chairman Beggs of the Board of Public Instruction said yesterday that steps had been taken to remodel the heating apparatus at the high school so that next year there would be no repetitions of the hardships under which teachers and pupils were required to work during the recent cold spells.

Judge Beggs said that the work would have been done last year but it was delayed because the board had hoped that a new school building would soon be ready and it was undesirable to make needless expenditures. He expressed the position of the board as being "up in the air."

"Now that we know the building cannot be ready for at least another year we must go ahead and make the necessary changes," Judge Beggs said. "We are sorry we did not do so last year, but we were so hopeful that the new building would be erected that we decided to save the expense."

Judge Beggs said certain fundamental changes in the heating system would be necessary. One change must be the addition of a pump to take away the condensation. The way the plant is now arranged part of the condensation must be forced against gravity by the incoming steam, causing a great loss in efficiency.

"There will be no repetition of this year's trouble," Judge Beggs said.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS.

—Jim Brown, negro, employed in loading lumber on a vessel in the harbor, was severely injured yesterday when a falling stick of timber struck him on the head. He was knocked unconscious, but reviving later he was carried to his home and attended by a physician.

—The city registration office has been moved from the second floor to the offices next to that of the city clerk at the city hall. The temporary offices will be in the northeast corner of the building in the rooms being prepared for the water department.

NOTED EDUCATOR STRESSES NEED OF VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Declaring that the greatest criticism of the modern school was that the system was impractical on account of not teaching useful subjects, Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart forecasts the replacement of the public school system now in use for them and their great work. He said that the education that was wanted by the American public was one that would teach the pupil's useful trades and prepare them to take a place in the world's work.

Dr. Hart spoke last night under the auspices of the Order of Moose. He is professor of the science of government in Harvard university and is spending a year's vacation traveling over the south. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hart on the tour. They leave here today for New Orleans, where Dr. Hart is scheduled to lecture.

Due to the rain late in the afternoon a very small audience was present at the hall last night and the lecture took the aspect of a friendly talk on educational matters. Dr. Hart was introduced by Judge M. E. Morey.

At Mooscheart, the orphan home of the order, vocational education is being taught to more than 800 children, said Dr. Hart, who is one of the board of governors of the institution. The institution is divided into family groups, ranging from four to sixteen children to the family. Each group lives in a separate house and the home resembles a village. The school is trying to give to each child a special training in the particular line it is most apt in and shows the greatest interest in, he said.

A department store on a small scale is run so that the children may get the practical knowledge of the purchasing power of money. They are taught useful trades that include everything from banking to clerkship.

Vocational education holds and creates more interest in the mind of the child than the ordinary so-called book education, and when the child is graduated from the institution he is better qualified to go into the world of trade and competition than is the graduate of the public school.

Dr. and Mrs. Hart visited many places of historic interest in the city yesterday and had only words of praise for Pensacola. They were especially interested in the old fort San Carlos and the naval air station.

MANY GOATS TAKEN BY POLICE DEPARTMENT

The police department is the proud possessor of 17 goats caught yesterday afternoon wandering around the streets and creating disturbances in the section they happened to be in at the time.

The nannies and billies were given an auto ride to the station and will be held until claimed by owners or sold at auction.

PLANE CIRCLES CITY DURING RAIN STORM

Naval plane fliers in an H-16 were over the city yesterday during the rain storm in the afternoon and attracted much attention as to their safety. The boat was in the air about two hours and made a safe landing at the station when the flight was completed.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT WILL ANNOUNCE SOON

Superintendent Edwards of the Board of Public Instruction yesterday referred to a Journal communication under "Views of Journal Readers," commenting that Mr. Moylan probably wanted to stir up enough interest in the superintendent's job so that someone would announce "Probably he is afraid I won't announce," said Mr. Edwards.

MAYOR FAVORS CHURCH SURVEY

WRITES OPEN LETTER TO CITIZENS IN WHICH HE ASKS THAT CENSUS TAKERS BE GIVEN COURTEOUS RECEPTION.

Mayor Frank D. Sanders yesterday addressed an open letter to the citizens asking that they lend courteous support to the survey on Sunday of the inter-church world movement workers. The mayor approves the plan of the work and asks that proper co-operation be given. The letter follows:

Pensacola, Fla., March 12, 1920.

To the Citizens of Pensacola:

With pleasure I endorse the church census and survey, which at present is being made in this city, in connection with the larger inter-church world movement.

This effort to bring the churches into more intimate touch with our unchurched citizens has my personal approval.

The information requested is reasonable and each census taker merits a courteous reception from all.

Very truly yours,

FRANK D. SANDERS, Mayor.

YOUNG WHITE MEN FOUND NOT GUILTY

Jury verdict of not guilty was pronounced yesterday in the court of record in the case against Roy Nelson and Calvin Sturtevant, charged with larceny. The charges against the young men were that they entered the smokehouse of a farmer near Bluff Springs and left with a quantity of smoked meat.

HE COULDN'T STRAIGHTEN UP.

James Carman, Mayfield, writes: My back used to hurt me at times and I could not get straight for hat tan hour. I took Foley Kidney Pills and have not had the trouble since. I cannot say enough for them and their great work. Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys do their work in ridding the system of the poisonous waste matter that causes so many aches and pains.
